Master of Science in International Affairs &
Global Enterprise
(MIAGE)

WHAT IS MIAGE?
Government agencies, NGOs and for-profit firms are complex international organizations that face challenges which require globally-minded individuals with interdisciplinary skills. The MIAGE degree trains students in the interaction of business, law, economics, and sociology on the global landscape. Students will learn strategic and operational skills needed to solve global issues and fill competitive roles within government agencies, NGOs, and international business.
